

be glad you are alive and are going to get well." And, although I did not realize what had happened to me, I was glad I was alive and with him and so I closed my eyes and went to sleep.

(To Be Continued Tomorrow.)
(Copyright, 1914, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

HAZEL DAWN WILL PLAY THE FIDDLE

Hazel Dawn

New York.—When Hazel Dawn makes her debut in "The Debutante" next August she will have to play a violin solo, as well as sing and do dance steps. So the musical comedy star has sailed away to Munich to be "coached" by the German fiddler.

Clubwomen in Indiana propose to establish an opera company.

LUBIN FILMS ALWAYS SHOW MAE
HOTELY IN STAR PART

Mae Hotely

Mae Hotely may well be admitted to be the star comedienne of the several Lubin stock companies. Every week the firm releases a picture story in which she is the central figure.

If you see a suffragette, a comedy old woman, or aggressive mother-in-law, that is Mae Hotely. She is an actress of considerable ability, but has won her advancement more in the silent drama than upon the stage. She is so enthusiastic over the work that she has no desire to change.

Miss Hotely is a French woman born in Paris and educated at the Convent of Notre Dame, but now by adoption a thorough American.

She is a clever horsewoman and rough rider.

If soot falls on carpet, cover with salt, and brush up lightly.